Compression Only CPR

Cost: Free
(Funding provided by United Way)

This presentation teaches lay rescuers the skills needed to respond appropriately to a witnessed sudden cardiac arrest of an adult. It will not be used on children or infants. It also will not be used in the event of respiratory emergencies that cause the heart to stop beating, such as, drug overdose, electrocution, drowning, choking, etc. Research shows that the lungs and blood are full of oxygen making it unnecessary to deliver more breaths. It is more important to circulate the oxygenated blood to the critical organs for survival – the heart and the brain.

Presentation Length: Approx. 45 minutes No certification received.
